

Kelly G. Hamer, Esq.

Kelly G. Hamer, Esq. Ocala, Florida

Professional Experience

Kelly G. Hamer has been a trial lawyer since 1988, focusing her practice primarily on complex litigation in the areas of medical malpractice, personal injury, wrongful death, nursing home litigation, Department of Health proceedings and other healthcare related matters. She is a founding shareholder of Siboni, Hamer and Buchanan, P.A., a litigation firm located in Ocala, Florida. She is also certified by the Florida Supreme Court as a Circuit Civil Mediator.

Ms. Hamer's extensive trial experience coupled with her knowledge and command of the medical field make her uniquely qualified to mediate cases involving medical issues related to both liability and damages. She has also handled employment-related issues including sexual harassment in the work place, wrongful termination and matters related to buyouts, termination of employment contracts and disputes involving non-compete agreements. Additionally, her experience as a trial lawyer provides her insight into the litigation process which allows her to be a skillful and effective mediator in helping to resolve disputes.

She has lectured and authored materials in the areas of medical malpractice and trial advocacy. Her book chapter, "Demonstrative Exhibits", was published in 2006 by the Florida Bar and LexisNexis in the Florida Medical Malpractice Handbook. She also chaired the Advanced Trial Advocacy Seminar of the Florida Bar Trial Lawyers Section for several years, providing guidance and instruction to experienced trial lawyers who were trying to hone their advocacy skills. Prior to obtaining her law degree from the University of Florida College of Law in 1988, Ms. Hamer was graduated from Duke University in Durham, North Carolina cum laude with a Bachelor's of Health Science Degree.

Professional Membership and Honors

Ms. Hamer maintains an "AV" rating by the Martindale-Hubbell Law Directory and has most recently been accepted into the Florida Chapter of the American Board of Trial Advocacy, an elite group of trial lawyers throughout the nation who have extensive trial experience.
